Wicks Will Attend Albany Session on State Food Action

Governor Dewey Summons His Top Aides to Friday Meeting at Capital

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 1 (AP)—Governor Dewey's top aides and Republican legislative leaders will meet Friday morning in an emergency session to hear his plans for state action on food problems.

This bare announcement came last night from Dewey's office without a hint regarding the program the governor has mapped. Sources close to Dewey indicated immediate action was contemplated with finances from a $3,000,000 contingency appropriation made by the 1947 legislature.

Low food prices and increased production were possible some. Dewey has called repeatedly for all-out production efforts.

During the war, Dewey created a state food commission to handle problems then hampering transportation and distribution of food, maintenance of nutritional standards and procurement of livestock feed.

His present program, the executive office said, is based on analysis by state officials, departments and "other sources."

"One matter involved is the matter of immediate appropriations to carry out the program," the office added.

Legislative leaders expected at the meeting are Senate Majority Leader Benjamin F. Feinberg, Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Heck, Assembly Majority Leader Lee J. Mallier, Senator Arthur H. Wicks, finance committee chairman, and Assemblyman D. Mallory Stephens, ways and means committee head.

Cabinet members invited include Tax Commission President Alger B. Chapman, Budget Director John E. Burton, Health Commissioner Herman E. Hillboe and Education Commissioner Francis T. Spaulding. Also expected to be present are Charles D. Broiel, the governor's counsel, and others high in the administration.

New York Milk Up Cent a Quart

Larger Cities Affected Today; Producers Got Raise

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 1 (AP)—Milk went up a cent-a-quart today in New York State's larger cities as the result of recently approved increases in prices paid to producers.

The increase brought the cost of milk to Syracuse consumers to an all-time high of 21 cents for a quart for Grade A, 22 cents for Homogenized, and 22 and 23 cents for Guernsey and Jersey milk.

The boost in Albany was the fourth since June and raised the price of Grade A to 22 cents a quart, Guernsey 25, and Homogenized 23.

In Rochester the new price was 22 cents a quart for Grade A, an

Says Poland Once Again Enslaved, Implies He Means Russia

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 1 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey declared today that Poland was "once again enslaved by a foreign power" and implied plainly he meant Russia.

His slap at the Soviet Union came in a proclamation designating Oct. 13 "Kosciuszko Day" and Oct. 13 "Kosciuszko Day" in New York State in tribute to the Polish generals who fought with the Continental armies in the American Revolution.

Dewey also urged full support of "American relief for Poland," which he said was "carefully designed to help the people of Poland, and not their governmental oppressors."

Two Men Injured When Wall Falls

Two Sections of Pier 57 Collapse as Entrance Facade Drops

New York, Oct. 1 (AP)—Two men were injured, a third suffered from shock and a fourth escaped unharmed today when two sections of the front wall of the burned out Hudson River Pier 57 collapsed.

Three of the men were Marine Surveyors who were examining damage from the $5,000,000 fire which had been burning since Sunday night. The fourth man, John Farrell, a longshoreman, working on an adjoining pier, suffered so badly from shock at the sight of the accident that he was taken to a hospital.

As the entrance facade to the pier collapsed, the 60 by 150 foot section carried with it the front wall of what had been the offices of the Grace Line, operator of the pier.

The walls, weakened and tilted back by the fire and constant streams of water played on them, came down with a great roar, trapping Frank Koehler, 60, of the marine surveying firm of Koehler & Koehler. He was thrown into the river.

Koehler had been working with T. O. Helperin, of Riverside, Conn., and Capt. Melville Voigt, of 1470 East Ave., the Bronx.

"I was the first to realize the wall was caving in," Capt. Voigt said. "I yelled to Helperin and Koehler to look out, but I guess Koehler was slow getting started."

Helperin's right ankle was sprained. Koehler was taken to a hospital suffering from possible fractures of both legs.

Battalion Chief John J. Broderick, who had been behind the wall two minutes before it collapsed, had ordered all firemen working there to get away because he feared the facade would fall. No firemen were trapped, although Broderick said immediately after the accident he believed at least three or four firemen had been working at the point.

200 Women Present at Local Clinic

Seven Counties Assist at State-Sponsored Crafts, Small Business Conference

Crafts Are Shown

Handicrafts, Foods Are Among Things Seen at Hotel

Nearly 200 women from seven counties in the Mid-Hudson area were told today how to market home products, how to start businesses of their own and how to turn their spare time into cash at a one-day Crafts and Small Business Clinic held at the Hotel Governor Clinton.

Several Kingston and Woodstock women addressed the group as well as professional experts on the staff of the Women's Program of the New York State Department of Commerce, which sponsored the clinic.

On tables and screens in the hotel dining room were displayed needlework, handicrafts and kitchen products of women throughout the region.

Housewives and business women attending the clinic consisted of individual marketing and sales problems and took part in a busy day during the speeches which gave up-to-the-minute advice on turning talents into profits.

"Success stories" were told at the morning session by Mrs. Helen Ward of the Home Food Shop on Broadway and Mrs. Besse Stowell, whose fine jewelry, imaginative dolls and linens were on display.

Tells of Guild

Mrs. Blanche Brownell Rolett, president of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, told the audience that "original, good things have no trouble finding a market."

She spoke of the advantages which a guild has to offer craftsmen as a marketing and sales agent and said the Woods Guild had received inquiries from a dozen states and Canada as to how to form a similar group.

The Woodstock Guild had it began nearly eight years ago in a little room over a meat shop, she said, and then developed its growth and expansion during the years. At present it is located in a "charming old house near the village green and next to the art gallery," she said.

Of all the many types of work handled by the Guild, baby things, toys, leather work and ceramics sell especially well, Mrs. Rolett said.

The Guild exhibit at the clinic included leather bags made by Mrs. Josephine Steffanson; cloth animals by "Peggy June"; Miss Margaret Weiss; silver and semi-precious stone jewelry by Mrs. Edith Temple; character dolls, wax candles, place mats, cocktail napkins by Mrs. Essie Stowell; ceramic jewelry by Miss Alice Fischer; crocheted gloves by Jennie Vogt; silk screen linen by Mrs. Edith Cook; hand-woven samples by Floyd Le Vigne; ceramics by Mrs. Terry Hertz; wooden boxes and novelties by Joseph Nador, and stencilled linen by Mrs. Mary D. Smith.

Miss Todd Speaks

Miss Jane H. Todd, deputy commissioner of the State Department of Commerce, said in her address of welcome that women's greatest successes had come in the fields of food and handicrafts.

Food Chairman Tells Truman People of America Will Not Fail in War on Hunger

Letter Is Sent

President Tells Heads of Committees Time Is Critical

Washington, Oct. 1 (AP)—President Truman asked the American people today to serve "fewer slices of bread" and help save 100,000,000 bushels of grain for European aid.

He also called for reduced feeding of grain to cattle and made clear most of the saving must come there.

"There will be more than enough food in the United States to go around, provided it is fairly distributed," Mr. Truman said.

White House aides said that in the President's plea to serve fewer slices of bread the emphasis was on avoiding waste.

Addressing the first meeting of his Citizens' Food Committee at the White House, Mr. Truman expressed the hope that the committee would get prices down and help hungry people in other countries at the same time.

Mr. Truman said the saving asked of each individual is actually very small.

"One bushel of grain saved by every American in the next few months will do the job," he said.

Responding for the 26-member committee, Chairman Charles Luckman, reported that thousands of letters offering voluntary help have poured upon the committee since its creation last Thursday.

"Mr. President, the people of America have never failed in the accomplishment of any war," Luckman said. "They will not fail in this war to hunger. On their behalf we pledge you our most earnest endeavors."

Savings Are One Phase

The savings of food here at home is only one phase of the administration's program to help Europe. Before the food can be sent there, Congress must approve funds, either as loans or gifts, with which European nations can buy it.

Mr. Truman has proposed $580,000,000 as stop-gap aid and asked that key congressional committees meet as soon as possible to consider it.

The committees are the Senate foreign relations, House foreign affairs and Senate and House appropriations bodies.

Mr. Truman made the request informally Monday and today made public a letter sent to chairmen of the committees.

"Time is of critical importance in this matter," Mr. Truman wrote, "and I earnestly hope that arrangements can be made for convening your committee at an early date."

The committees are making arrangements to convene in November in response to the President's plea that such aid must be forthcoming if France and Italy are to survive as free and independent nations. The letter underscored this point as follows:

"Political groups that hope to profit by unrest and distress are now attempting to capitalize on the grave fears of the French and Italian people that they will not

Vic Lombardi Is Choice for Dodgers; Huge Crowd Attends

Yankee Stadium, Oct. 1 (AP)—Allie Reynolds, 19-game winner of the New York Yankees during the regular season, was out to make it two straight for the American League champions in the second game of the World Series against the Brooklyn Dodgers today. Vic Lombardi, slight but spunky little left-hander was named by Dodger Manager Burt Shotton to oppose Reynolds.

Another capacity crowd of about 73,000 was on hand to see the second game at the Yankee Stadium before the teams moved to Ebbets Field for the third game.

Reynolds, acquired from the Cleveland Indians last winter in a trade for Second Baseman Joe Gordon, has won 19 games and lost eight. Lombardi finished the regular campaign with a record of 12-11, but was the Dodgers' most consistent winner in the second half of the season.

Billy Johnson, Yankee third baseman, who suffered a bruised hand when hit by a pitched ball yesterday and was a doubtful starter, was at his position today and said the pain had disappeared overnight.

With a left-hander on the mound, Catcher Larry Berra was dropped from third to eighth in the Yankee batting order. Johnny Lindell, moving up from seventh to third and Phil Rizzuto advancing from eighth to seventh.

have enough food and fuel to survive the "big winter." Mentions No Groups
 Mr. Truman thus mentioned no political groups by name. The principal argument which has been made for the aid-Europe program, however, is this: If France and Italy go hungry this winter, Communists may seize power.

In his remarks to the Food Committee, Mr. Truman described the United States as "a granary of hope" as well as a granary of bread.

Western Europe must cut its rations "below the danger point" unless bigger grain shipments are speeded to them, he said.

All estimates indicate that 470,000,000 bushels of grain are the conditions an export under present "strong evidence" that at least 100,000,000 bushels more than this will be needed.

"This 100,000,000 bushels must be saved by the American people," Mr. Truman asserted. "We know this is our minimum goal. We can count only on that saving slice of the crop from serving fewer mouths. The rest must come out of what we have left over. We must and we will save what we can. We will save what we can in a score of ways."

Saving Must Be Achieved
 "This saving must be achieved, not by increasing prices so that the burden of the sacrifice will be borne by those least able to buy food, but through an equitable sharing of all of our citizens."

"There will be more than enough food in the U. S. to go around provided it is fairly distributed. Excessive prices, however, result in unfair distribution, already increasing prices are bringing hardship to millions of Americans. Estimating that about 10 percent of all the food Americans buy is wasted, Mr. Truman suggested less waste and more selectivity in purchasing. He emphasized the voluntary nature of his campaign as being consistent with the free enterprise system.

Luckman has promised the citizens food committee will announce "definite and specific" plan late today.

On the price issue, Congress members already are casting about for means whereby aid could be financed with least tendency to boost prices. Chairman Wilcott (R-Mich.) of the House Banking Committee suggested that the winter aid, if Congress agrees to it, be financed by the Export-Import Bank instead of treasury borrowing. He argued that method would be less inflationary.

Thus far, the administration has given little indication that it is considering any means other than voluntary for saving food.

However, the President was to receive during the day a report from his council of economic advisers. Edwin G. Nourse, who heads it, said the report will be a new survey of the economic outlook and some recommendations for action.

ing many aims and objectives for the benefit of teachers in the Kingston school system; a spokesman said.

No Interference

An interesting point was submitted to the Board of Education of the city in a brief dated February 24, 1944. At that time it was stated as one of the Local's objectives and aims that "It is not our purpose, nor do we intend, to interfere with the Board, the Superintendent of Schools, or other departmental or supervisory heads in the performance and discharge of their respective functions and duties. We recognize that each has its proper place in the school system and that each must perform their respective functions and duties."

Since that time and on several occasions the teachers have submitted other proposals regarding salaries and conditions affecting matters of education to the board. It was proved that many of these objectives were good, for the Board of Education has increased salaries and has adopted many of the suggestions presented to them.

The Credit Union movement in the United States dates from 1909 when Massachusetts passed the first State law on Law. Unions in the nation, which accumulated members, have 4,000,000. The records of more than 30 years show that Credit Unions can manage their money affairs with every essential of success.

Earnings of Union
 Net earnings from loan operation or other sources may be returned to the members in the form of dividends if they so vote, except that 20 per cent of the net earnings is set aside in a reserve fund for bad loans. With well-established Credit Unions a dividend rate of three or four per cent annually is quite common. Federal Credit Union bylaws limit dividends to six per cent each year. increase of three cents since July 31. Binghamton prices climbed to 21 cents a quart for milk in stores and 22 cents delivered.

Milk sold in stores rose to 20 cents in New York City, Nassau, Suffolk and Westchester counties. A 44-cent per hundredweight increase to producers of milk delivered in the New York metropolitan area was announced last Thursday by C. J. Blanford, marketing administrator.

A full day later, temporary increases in producer prices for fluid milk and fluid cream in the Buffalo and Rochester areas were approved by Agriculture Commissioner C. Chester du Mond.

The 40-cent increase per hundredweight for fluid milk and the 30-cent boost for Class 2-A fluid cream was made effective until January 1.

New York Has Coldest Oct. 1 in Bureau History

New York, October 1 (AP)—Today was the coldest October 1 in the history of the New York Weather Bureau.

The thermometer registered 38 degrees in the early morning, compared with the previous record of 41.7 established on the date in 1916. The normal average for the date is 62.

The weather bureau predicted a maximum in the middle 50s this afternoon, with a drop to the upper 30s tonight.

Chilly in South

Parts of the South got their first touch of chilly autumn weather as temperatures dropped to below normal over nearly the entire eastern half of the nation. The mercury dropped to near freezing in some southern areas, and well below the 32 degree mark in parts of the Midwest and East as the mass of cool air moved toward the Atlantic coast and into New England.

The reading in Greensboro, N.C., was in the high 30s early today and in Richmond and Roanoke, Va., the cool air sent the mercury down to 37. The same mark was reported in Louisville and Bowling Green, Ky. Nashville's early morning temperature, normally about 60, was in the 40s.

Coldest Spot
 But the coldest spot on the weather map was Cadillac, Mich., 24 and Utica, N.Y., 25. Chicago's 34.1 was the lowest for the autumn season.

Milder temperatures are on the way, the federal weather bureau in Chicago said, although the cool weather by tonight will be centered in central Pennsylvania and Maine.

Warm temperatures continued in the Gulf States and in parts of the Rocky mountain region, and were near normal along the Pacific coast.

Pittsburgh Gets Smoke Control, but Fight Isn't Over

By WILLIAM G. SMOCK

Pittsburgh, Oct. 1 (AP)—Smoke control in this steel capital, long dubbed the "smoky city," goes into effect on a city-wide basis today amid charges and countercharges that may keep the Pittsburgh atmosphere, figuratively, as murky as ever for some time to come.

Although industries and railroads have been covered by a smoke abatement ordinance for a year, householders never before have come under the law. Now they must stop burning smoke-producing coal and either use low-volatile "smoke-less coal," install smoke-less stokers, or convert to gas or oil.

The fight to clean the air over the "smoky city" began a half-century ago and the enactment of a smoke abatement law hasn't left the opposition silenced.

Opponents of the smoke control continue to mourn the blow to "king coal," the fuel which helped make Pittsburgh a great city, and say smoking stacks here are a welcome sign of prosperity. Others contend supplies of smokeless coal and coke are inadequate and that it is unreasonable to put homeowners and landlords to the expense of installing new furnaces or conversion units.

Supporters of smoke control point to St. Louis as a shining example of what happens when smoke is eliminated. They argue cleaning bills there have been slashed, that residents are healthier and their city a better place in which to live. Smoke control backers also say industries are operating more efficiently, since installation of devices which force smoke back into the fire mean that fuel is being consumed more completely.

Similarly, arguments rage as to the effectiveness of smoke abatement during the last year here among industrial plants and railroads.

Both Are Agreed

Both sides agree that Pittsburgh's geographical location poses special problems in ridding the city of the dark overcast which often kept electric lights burning through the morning hours and past noon.

The Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, which join to form the Ohio river here, and the many hills for which Pittsburgh is famous help produce the frequent fogs which mix with the city's smoke.

M.J.M. Activities for Non-Resident Students

The Myron J. Michael School has inaugurated a special activities program for non-resident students. Each Wednesday, Miss Ward, who is head of the girls' activities classes, will have an organized sports program for non-resident girl pupils during school hours.

This new program is designed for the benefit of non-resident students who have to take buses at 3:15 in the afternoon.

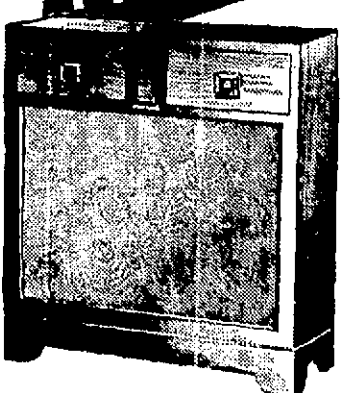

Formerly the resident girl pupils could only participate in this sports activities program, because they were held after regular school hours. Under the new sports activity plan, the non-resident girl pupils now can enjoy these activities, which will be held during the regular school hours. Softball, field hockey, basketball and other sports are included in the program.

The non-resident students also will have the opportunity to participate in special groups in music, both vocal and instrumental, and also art lessons.

There will be a meeting tonight at the school of the Hurley Parents Club at 8:15 o'clock. The school transportation system will be discussed.

and produce the notorious "smog" where, the air cannot rise and a so-called "lid" is formed. If the air is full of dust, the lid keeps the dirt from being blown away.

Most Pittsburghers drew the conclusion they may still look forward to some dirt and poor visibility even if smoke abatement proves successful.

Warning of Shortage

Currently, Pittsburgh gas companies are warning of a looming shortage this winter as the result of heavy demand and two of three major firms have served notice they won't take any new business.

Rather than fighting smoke abatement, the area's large coal producers have spearheaded a drive to develop processed coal (coke) that will burn with only a wisp of smoke.

Anthracite has never found a wide market in Pittsburgh, heart of the soft coal fields, and is expensive in this region.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

Burlington, Iowa, Oct. 1 (AP)—E. C. Etchinson, 64, didn't let the housing shortage get him down—he went to work and single-handedly built a brand new home 45 blocks long and 33 blocks wide. Neighbors call it the "Kindlelow," because it is a bungalow made from kindling.

Etchinson constructed his dwelling from eight-inch square blocks sold by a local lumber yard as firewood. He and his wife were living at their daughter's home two years ago when he conceived the idea of building a place of his own.

But materials were scarce and high-priced. Then Etchinson learned that the lumber yard had thousands of good white pine blocks. They had been purchased originally by the huge Iowa Ordnance Plant here during the war for use in shipping fuses and other ordnance parts. Etchinson decided to build a "block house" when the lumber yard offered him all he wanted at $6 to 8 a ton.

Used 26,000 Blocks
He began, August, 1945, working in his spare time. Two years and 26,000 wooden blocks later—he used 22 tons altogether—he had a complete three-room house, a garage, a brooder and a henhouse for the family's flock of 100 chickens. His "Kindlelow" is a home many a young bride, weary of cramped wartime housing, would love to move into.

"I designed the place as I went along," said Etchinson. "The only help I had was from my wife. There wasn't any waste. Any blocks that couldn't be used for building made good firewood."

Has Cement Roof
Among novel features of the "Kindlelow," which measures 22 by 30 feet, is a cement roof. Etchinson, a cement finisher, rebelled against buying conventional roofing material because of its expense.

"The cement roof is standing up well," he said, "and we don't have to worry about the block walls warping out of shape either. The wood is well seasoned. The house'll last as long as we have any need of it."

The Etchinsons lived in the garage while the "Kindlelow" was rising, and Mrs. Etchinson bordered it with 25 kinds of flowers.

"We moved in and had our first meal here last Mother's Day," said Mrs. Etchinson. "I call it our 'dime house' because every time we got a dime we invested in another section of wall."

The blocks were cemented and nailed together. Sanded, stained and varnished, they made a beautiful parquet floor. Etchinson doesn't think his "Kindlelow" will ever really be finished. He still has a pile of several hundred blocks and wants now to add a front and back porch and other units.

His First House
"I never built a house before," he smiled, "but I've done considerable patching."

He estimated that altogether he had spent between $2,000 and $3,000 on the house and its buildings.

"People wouldn't think it would run that much," he said, "but kindling costs money, too, nowadays. And you have to buy all kinds of other things."

The Etchinsons live alone in the "Kindlelow" with "Shrimp," their Spitz dog and "two or three cats that stay around."

"Our seven children are all married and gone," said Mrs. Etchinson. She likes to show her home to visitors who come many miles to see it. And she is proud of a remark made by one elderly lady about Etchinson's handiwork.

"It just goes to show what you can do if you really want to."

Asks Divorce Decree
Los Angeles, Oct. 1 (AP)—The Hollywood film colony was surprised when actress Susan Hayward, 27, sued actor Jess Barker, 33, for divorce yesterday. Friends said they had no inkling of the rift. She brought suit on the ground of cruelty, alleging that Barker, former New York stage actor, had caused her "grievous mental anguish." Her complaint stated they separated only last Sunday. They were married here July 23, 1944. Miss Hayward asked custody of their two-year-old twins, Timothy and Gregory. She said there was no community property. Her legal name is Edythe Marrenner Barker and New York was her original home.

Friedman on Greek Crisis

Editor, The Freeman:

The UN meets again at Lake Success publicized by American newspapers as if it were an arena for two mighty pugilists. "United States and Russia Square Off" blared many a headline. The momentum of the American offensive to discredit the Soviet Union, Bulgaria, Yugoslavia and Albania on the Greek issue, is roaring on all cylinders. The blunt, so-called diplomatic accusation of the Balkan States by Secretary Marshall; Senator Wiley's dark statements that Americans were mysteriously being killed in areas controlled by the Soviets; the American legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars thumping the tub for war with the Soviet Union, now; this all adds up to a conditioning for the American people. What are the facts?

Greece is a small nation who has been under British economic domination for decades, ruled by a King related to the House of Windsor. The history of modern Greece is the struggle against this domination. The blackest pages of this history was the era of King George and Metaxas. This duo stifled all freedom and paralyzed the nation. Labor unions were smashed and its leadership killed or imprisoned. Those who were lucky escaped to mountain hideouts. With their unions destroyed the Greek worker toiled for a few drachmas while the privileged class reaped a harvest in a tax free state. A great upsurge occurred in 1938, King George was forced to abdicate and the fascist Metaxas fled the country. But England still maintained economic control. The Sophoulis and Papandreu's, the Liberals, and Social Democrats, became willing tools for British imperialism.

Mussolini attacked Greece at this point with a disgruntled Italian Army. A small well trained Greek Army drove the fascist into Albania. Hitler came to Mussolini's rescue and subdued the Greeks. The E.A.M. arose under Nazi occupation a united resistance force from all walks of Greek life, and from all political persuasions. They formed an army called the E.L.A.S. that made the occupation for the Nazis a bitter memory. The monarchist group formed a unit called the E.D.E.S. and proclaimed resistance to the German occupation. But too many of them collaborated with the enemy and soon it was apparent that there was a kinship of ideals. The most infamous of collaborators was Nafis.

ment rabble, ragamuffins and beggars, unfit to rule. This pompous lackey decided for the Greek people what was their rightful heritage. The British retained the vilest collaborators and put them in position of power. The monarchist faction became again the ruling class and King George sat astride the people. But the powerful E.A.M. resisted. Britain complained of financial inability to maintain an armed force in Greece to suppress Greek democracy. President Truman then invoked his doctrine and Greece became a satellite of the United States.

Then we come to the farce where the monarchist government, there by the grace of British bayonets and American money, complains that Yugoslavia, Albania, and Bulgaria are lending assistance to the Greek guerrillas. The UN dispatched a commission to the scene over the protest of the Soviet Union and the accused Balkan nations, who claimed that Greece's troubles were due to internal affairs. The UN commission reported that it could not discover any aggressive acts by any of Greece's neighbors. Despite this report Sec. Marshall persists in his accusations. The American people will judge whether the E.A.M. or the American-sponsored Sophoulis-Zervas government are truly representative of Greek democracy. Let us demand complete amnesty for all Greek political prisoners and a new government that will include the E.A.M. otherwise we must take the responsibility for failure to solve the Greek crisis. Truly yours, MORRIS FRIEDMAN 100 McEntee Street Kingston, N. Y.

NEW HEARING AID DEVELOPMENT TO BE DEMONSTRATED FOR FIRST TIME

Unprecedented demands for demonstrations of a new development for the hard-of-hearing makes it necessary for me to continue my Acousticon Clinics at the Governor Clinton Hotel, Room 120, Mr. Harry R. Mooney, who has helped so many hard-of-hearing people in this vicinity, will be in charge of the Clinics in person. He is proud to represent Acousticon, the world's first and oldest manufacturer of electrical hearing aids. The personal and private Clinic will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Thursday, October 2, 1947 from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M. During those hours, Mr. Mooney will be glad to arrange by telephone for consultation at your own home the following day or at your convenience.

This new hearing instrument presents so many of the very things the hard-of-hearing have long been seeking. It's a small instrument—with its batteries enclosed—making it convenient to carry. It's light, slim and beautiful—making it attractive to wear. It offers an etched clarity of tone that's hard to imagine because it picks up even a whisper, yet fades background noises as if smothered by a velvet blanket. The makers of this new development say this new Acousticon hearing aid has gathered favorable comment from users all over the country. These people have written of the unusually clear hearing they've acquired since wearing the new Acousticon.

All hard-of-hearing are urged to attend this FREE HEARING CLINIC. Those who find it impossible to come should write Mr. Mooney at 171 East Post Road, White Plains, N. Y., or telephone on Thursday, Kingston 2700 for the complete free information.

Effect of Funnies
Although I am not hungry
And dinner is just through,
When Dagwood makes a sandwich,
I feel I want one, too.
—Mrs. M. E. Foust

Thrift
A young man once found a two-dollar bill in the road. From that time on, he never lifted his eyes from the ground while walking. In the course of 40 years he accumulated 29,516 buttons, 52,172 pins, 7 pennies, a bent back and a miserly disposition.

He lost the glories of the light, the smiles of his friends, the songs of birds, the beauties of nature and opportunity to serve his fellowman and spread happiness.

Notice in a Virginia weekly: Any one found near my chicken house at night will be found there next morning.

He had just acquired a weekly paper and was out soliciting advertising for the coming issue. Of course, he wanted his first issue under the new ownership to be outstanding and all but one merchant had cooperated. He called back a third time and bluntly asked: "Why don't you take an advertisement?"

"No, sir," the storekeeper emphatically refused. "I did once and it might have ruined me."

"How was that?"

"Why people came in and darn near bought all the stuff I had on the shelves."

Old Doctor—What do you want, my lad?

Young Physician—I want a little advice on how to succeed in this profession.

Old Doctor—Just have patience, my son, have patience.

He (after long argument)—I wonder what would happen if you and I ever agreed on anything?

She—I'd be wrong.

Witely—There's an old clothes man at the door.

Witely—Tell him I've got all I need.

Patient—I say, Doc, I took the wrong medicine by mistake.

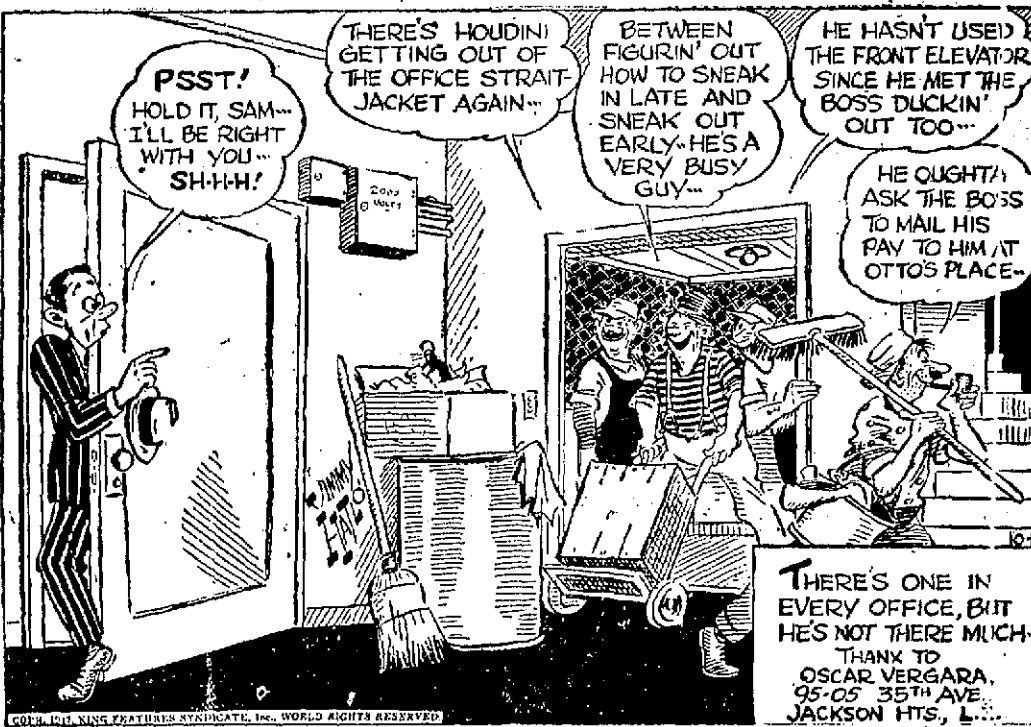

Doc—Well, that's your own funeral.

how such a wonderful fur can come from such a low, sneaking, little beast.

Admirer—I don't ask for thanks, but I won't be insulted.

An unfortunate was applying for relief and the girl at the desk was filling out the questionnaire.

Girl—Do you owe any back rent?

Man—Ma'am, we've got modern plumbing.

"Mother," said little Mary, with just a shade of apprehension in her voice. "The problem you helped me with last night was all wrong. But," she added consolingly, "we don't feel bad; none of the other mothers got it right either."

When a check comes back marked, "No Account," maybe it means the person who wrote it.

Birds Told
A few centuries ago, a man's rank or station in life could be told by the kind of bird he used in the sport of hawking. Kings used the gyrfalcon, earls the peregrine, yeomen the goshawk, poor men the tercel, and knaves the kestrel.

Harkin Appeals For More Recruits In National Guard

Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer of the 136th Field Artillery Battalion, National Guard, with headquarters in Kingston, yesterday told the Kingston Lions Club that the Army has only two divisions and a regimental combat team for the defense of the continental United States.

"For this reason, the National Guard has become the first line of defense," Col. Harkin said. Speaking at the regular Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Lions Club at the Hotel Governor Clinton, the officer appealed to Kingston's support for the current National Guard recruiting drive.

"The Kingston Army could be one of the showplaces of New York state," he said. "It is one of the best equipped I have ever seen. But we need support. At present in Kingston 56 men have expressed intent to join. We need about 300 by November 16."

Col. Harkin said a full-strength, well-trained National Guard was essential not only because of the limited regular army forces in the United States, but because army recruitments had fallen below expectations.

He said a full-strength unit in Kingston would add some $80,000 to the annual city income.

The officer briefly described the plan for a Kingston unit of the State War Disaster Military Corps, which would take over in the event of local riots, disasters, atomic warfare, and so forth. This unit would be composed of men either physically unfit or not willing to join the guard itself.

At the meeting, Lions President Walter Donnaruma announced that the monthly meeting of the club's Board of Directors would be held Monday night at the Hotel Governor Clinton.

Hanover Blames Poor Pay for Illiteracy

Lake Placid, N. Y., Oct. 1 (AP)—The secretary-treasurer of the State Federation of Labor says the "harvest of years of public denial of the rights of teachers" to "adequate" pay has been illiteracy. Harold C. Hanover, in an address last night at the 32nd annual vocational and practical arts conference sponsored by the State Education Department, also attacked wage-instituted vocational training short-cuts for developing "a minority of mechanics and a wealth of assemblers."

Unless skilled workers are more carefully trained, Hanover said, "we will have sacrificed the crafts to a speed-up system of prefabrication and slip-shod workmanship."

He declared the nation had an inadequate staff of teachers because "powerful groups" have opposed "the justice due our educators."

Millions of men were rejected for war service because of illiteracy, he said and added:

"This was the bumper harvest of years of public denial of the rights of teachers to earnings commensurate with the services they perform for the nation."

How would you like to live in a goldfish bowl?

SUPPOSE you were out of touch with the world. Suppose you could see some things going on around you... but had no means of learning who, what, where, and why. In short, you would be just about as well-informed as a goldfish. It would be pretty tough, wouldn't it?

Well, that's not a far-fetched idea of how life would be without your newspaper. For your newspaper, you see, is really you... here, there, and everywhere. Now you're down Sycamore Street—there's a whopper of a fire at Harry Smith's place. Now you're in Washington—the Senate is just getting warmed up on a new bill. Now you're in Tokyo—now you're in Berlin—now Moscow.

Yes, there's a world on your doorstep every morning... the world tucked away in your coat-pocket on your way home every evening. Like a magic carpet it carries you to a million places so easily you never have to leave your favorite fireside chair.

You may move your home. Your old slippers sooner or later wear out. Even your pet dog may pass away. But your newspaper, as warm and as much a part of your life as any of these, is always with you... Sunday, Monday, and always.

Elsworth Favors N. Y. City in His Assessment Ruling

The City of New York has won a reduction in the assessment of its water works property in the town of Hurley, the assessment of $2,000,000 which the assessors laid for the year 1946 having been reduced by Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth on application of the city to $1,540,000 which is the figure which the assessors originally entered on the roll.

Justice Elsworth held that the increase to $2,000,000 was illegal since it was made without a proper hearing in the matter at which the City of New York might have appeared and presented facts. He holds that the assessors were in no legal position to lay the $2,000,000 assessment after having originally placed the figure at $1,540,000.

When the assessment was originally laid the City of New York protested the assessment and asked for a $400,000 reduction. However the City of New York withdrew the protest later and the assessors called a hearing which took place after the city's protest had been withdrawn. The city made no appearance at the hearing. Then the assessors increased the $1,540,000 assessment to $2,000,000 and the city began a proceeding to have that assessment reduced.

Notice was served on the city to produce certain facts and figures. This was done and after the facts were before the assessors they retained the $2,000,000 assessment and entered such an amount on the roll. The city applied for relief.

Justice Elsworth holds that the city had a right to withdraw its protest and in the absence of a protest by the city, that the assessors had no legal right to increase the assessment and he directs that the original assessment of $1,540,000 be entered on the roll.

The town of Hurley was represented by N. LeVan Haver and John E. Egan and the City of New York by Charles E. Murphy, corporation counsel, by Andrew Belanca and John Suglia of counsel.

Woman Hit by Crates Given $7,000 Verdict

Theresa Woodleaf Kessel of Woodstock was awarded a verdict of $7,000 in Supreme Court in an action brought to recover damages for injuries which she suffered when struck by crates of cauliflower which had been thrown from a truck which tipped over as she was about to board a bus in the town of Woodstock. The verdict of the jury was against William and Alan Bycroft, owners and operators of a car which was attempting to pass the bus as it slowed down to pick up passengers. The owner and operator of the cauliflower truck, Russo and Brown, were held to be not at fault and Russo, driver of the cauliflower truck was given a verdict of $5,000 against the Bycrofts.

A motion to set aside the verdict in favor of Russo was made by Mr. Cook and Justice Elsworth reserved decision.

N. LeVan Haver appeared for the plaintiff Kessel and A. J. Cook appeared for William and Alan Bycroft.

Following the report of the jury which was made to Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth, who has been holding the trial term, court recessed until Monday next at 11 o'clock at which time Justice Francis Bergan will continue the trial term.

Reynolds and Vic Lombardi Pitching Choices for Second Game

Yanks Traditional Big Inning Decides Opening Contest, 5-3

New York, Oct. 1 (AP)—Talk of four straight echoed around Yankee headquarters today as Manager Bucky Harris selected Allie Reynolds, the Creek Indian chief from Oklahoma, to face the Dodgers in the second World Series game. Burt Shotton of the underdog Brooks cloaked his probable selection of Lefty Vic Lombardi in deep secrecy.

Apparently Dodger pitching turns are to remain in doubt until shortly before game time. Shotton followed that strategy in yesterday's 5-3 opening loss, and announced that he will continue the same plan.

If the delayed pick was supposed to relieve Branca of pre-game pressure, it didn't work. Ralph was obviously nervous as he waited game time on the Dodger bench but as cool as the weather when he took the hill.

Yankee Hero

JOHNNY LINDELL

His sharp double to left field with the bases loaded in the fifth inning set the stage for the Yankee victory and Ralph Branca's downfall in the World Series opener yesterday at Yankee Stadium.

yanked for Hank Behrman after he threw two straight balls to Bobby Brown, pinchhitting for Shea.

Lifting Shea for a hitter was a gamble but as Harris said later it was a chance for a big inning and he took it. Brown eventually walked, forcing across Johnson and the parade was on.

George Stinweis forced Lindell at the plate but beat Edwards' throw to first. Tommy Henrich followed with his two-run single to left and it was in the bag.

The Dodgers, although they were not completely mystified by the Yankee attack, never closed the gap. Singles by Ed Stanky, Reiser and pinch hitter Carl Furillo got back one in the sixth and the other resulted in the seventh when Reese walked, stole second and raced home on a wild pitch.

At the end it was old Hugh Casey toiling for the Brooklyn and Page for the Yanks, just like many persons figured—a bull pen World Series, at least in the opener.

The annual corporate meeting of the stockholders of Wiltwyck Golf Club Inc. will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the club house on Hurley avenue.

It is expected that reports made at the meeting will show the present season to be the most successful since the course was opened in the bleak days of the depression in the 1930s.

All playing members whether stockholders or not are invited to attend the annual meeting.

Yankee Manager Is Impressed by Hustle, Speed

New York, Oct. 1 (AP)—They'll be tough to beat. They got the speed.

This was the considered opinion of Manager Bucky Harris as his victorious New York Yankees prepared to take on the Brooklyn Dodgers today in the second game of the World Series.

"Don't for a minute think they'll be easy to beat," Harris reminded. "They're a good ball club. I've got a lot of respect for their ability."

"You saw them yesterday. Did they quit when Branca (Ralph Branca, starting pitcher) folded in the fifth? By gosh, they came back, fighting mad and almost caught us, didn't they? Don't think I wasn't scared stiff when the first batter walked in the ninth and that Edwards guy, who can beat your brains out any time, came up to bat."

Brown Key Batter

Harris said the turning point of the game came with pinch hitter Bobby Brown at bat with the bases loaded in the hectic fifth which saw the Yankees score all their runs in their 5-3 victory.

"Imagine the spot the kid was in," Harris asked. "Here was a kid in his first year in the big leagues, being sent up to bat with the bases loaded and 73,000 fans looking on."

"Why, I could see his face was as white as chalk. His heart must have beat a mile a minute, but his eyes were clear and that base on balls that he drew set up the stage for Tommy Henrich's two-run single which proved eventually to be the winning run."

"I know how he felt," Harris reiterated. "Because that was the way I felt when I went up to bat for the first time in my first World Series in 1924."

Sensed Big Inning

Asked to explain his reason for substituting a pinch hitter for pitcher Frank Shea in the fifth when the Yankees were ahead 2-1 and Shea apparently well in control, Harris explained:

"Look, I was playing for a big inning and I got it, didn't I? Sure, Shea was going good, but I had another pretty good pitcher in the bullpen and I knew that if we could get a couple of more runs, Joe Page would hold the lead for us. We got three more and Page held the lead."

Harris complimented the Dodgers on the speed and hustle they will admitted that it would be a problem the Yankees would have to cope with.

Yanks Confident

"Those guys are fast," Harris enthused. "Look at that Jackie Robinson. We knew he was going to steal and we couldn't catch him. And guys like Pete Reiser and Carl Furillo aren't exactly snails either."

"You can say this for me," he concluded. "If and when we win this combination of four, we will know that we had beaten a tough club. Another thing you can quote me on is this, the Yankees may not win the Series but I never saw a club in a better frame of mind. They are firmly convinced they can do it. A team in that frame of mind is mighty tough to beat."

Cleveland Ring Moguls Support Illinois Ruling

Cleveland, Oct. 1 (AP)—Andrew J. Putka, Cleveland boxing commissioner, said today the local commission was in complete concurrence with the Illinois Athletic Commission in barring dishonorably discharged servicemen from the ring.

He did not elaborate on the statement other than to say he felt no man should be allowed to participate "in boxing who has not fulfilled the trust to his country."

When the Illinois Commission announced its decision Tuesday, Roy D. Keene, commissioner member, said it was directed at midweight champion Rocky Graziano.

He said the commission had accepted the War Department's record of Pvt. Rocco Barbella as that of Graziano. The record showed that Barbella was convicted, sentenced and dishonorably discharged from the army on a charge of being absent without leave in 1942.

Graziano already is barred from boxing in New York for allegedly failing to report an attempt to bribe him to "throw" a fight.

United Nations industries used about 11 short tons of industrial diamonds between 1939 and 1944.

Today's Series Starters

Allie Reynolds

Vic Lombardi

Allie Reynolds, left, a 19-game winner during the American League campaign, was the Yankee pitching choice for the second game of the series. Vic Lombardi, right, the Dodgers' most effective hurler in the last half of the season, was expected to go for the Bums.

Cards Tougher Than Yankees On Basis of Game---Robinson

New York, Oct. 1 (AP)—The Yankees, says Dodger First Baseman Jackie Robinson, "On the basis of one game are not as tough as the Cardinals. Mind you, I said on the basis of one game."

"Pressure on me? No, but I just couldn't connect with the ball. If I'd come through with a hit when it was needed it might have been a different story."

Guy Lombardo, the orchestra leader and speed boat racer, is a baseball fan. His band played for the first World Series game, and is due to appear for the second.

Lombardo paid the salaries—not the Yankees—and because there are complimentary seats for a World Series, Guy also purchased 40 tickets for members of the band and their wives, Helen Jepson, Metropolitan Opera soprano who sang the Star Spangled Banner, also bought her way in.

Well, they are young boys," was all Branch Rickey would say after the first game loss.

Commissioner A. B. Chandler, who has been booed on some of his public appearances, came out unscathed Tuesday. Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York threw in the first ball from the commissioner's box, with no particular attention focused on the ceremony.

"I hated to take him out," said Manager Burt Shotton of Ralph Branca, the Dodger pitcher who blew up in the fifth after four flawless innings. "He still had plenty of stuff. Shotton put his arms around the tall, earnest right-hander and said with a broad smile, 'Hold your head up.'"

Two of the greatest hitters in the game, Ty Cobb and Ted Williams, met for the first time in the Series. Williams, who draws down $85,000 per season, stared at Cobb with admiration, and with almost child-like awe asked, "I've always wanted to meet you, Mr. Cobb. Can you show me how to hit a slider?"

Second guessers were having a picnic masterminding the first game. "The game was won in the dugout," one back-seat pilot volunteered. "Shotton waited too long to yank Branca while Harris made a smart move in taking Shea out for a pinch hitter in the big fifth."

"He's the kind of a guy who would be insisting Harris was a bum if pinch-hitter Bobby Brown had popped up, Tommy Henrich had hit into a double play and Joe Page had given up the winning runs," quipped a bystander.

If nothing else Branca will always remember Sept. 30 as his lucky day. It was just a year ago that day that Branca, en route to St. Louis to pitch against the Cardinals in the playoff for the National League pennant, lost his wallet containing several hundred dollars. That was peanuts compared to what yesterday's fifth inning blowup might

Colonial Playoff Winners Receive $30 Per Player

Stamford, Conn., Oct. 1 (AP)—Directors of the Colonial Baseball League distributed playoff-series shares amounting to $30 each to members of the winning Stamford Bombers team.

League Secretary John Scalzi, announcing the distribution at a meeting last night winding up the six-club circuit's first season, said that bad weather and other factors prevented the series from being a financial success. He asserted that the directors considered the league's first season in organized baseball a success and anticipated a better fan response next season.

Len Strong of West Haven, league president, said that the league directors also discussed expansion of the circuit to include eight clubs with Herkimer, N. Y., and Paterson, N. J., as the prospective new members. All of the clubs in the league tonight submitted player reserve lists, most listing 20 players, Strong said.

Paul Simpson Replaces Barone In Main Event Thursday, Oct. 9

Here Oct. 9

PAUL SIMPSON

Boxing fans who patronize the main event at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium on Thursday night, Oct. 9, will see a heavyweight match as the main attraction, featuring a big local favorite, Paul Simpson of Cleveland.

This was announced today by Ben Becker of Albany, director of bouts for the local organization. He said that Simpson was matched with an outstanding New York, city 185-pounder, Johnny Barone, one of the best prospects in the stable of Jack Toner, St. Albans handler.

Barone Off Card
Toner's business is finding good looking amateurs, then coaching them until they are ready for the professional arena and his purposes. The Simpson-Barone match replaces the five-rounder between Johnny Barone of Schenectady and Jimmy Beau of Poughkeepsie, two star welterweights. Becker endeavored to re-match for the top strap.

According to Becker, Barone recently became a "new daddy," and feels that the stress and strain of awaiting the arrival of an heir would detract from his chances of rolling up victory No. over Beau. Unless Barone has time for gymnasium work, he can't box. Tony is one of the most faithful devotees of the conditioning routine, and his record proves that the same course they couldn't help but meet with success.

Beau was disappointed about the matter, because he's been waiting for another shot at Barone.

Balance of Card
Other five round matches are: Freddie O'Neal, Schenectady lightweight, who scored a knockout on the last card, vs. Bunny White, New York city, another contender.

Johnny Gibson, Albany welterweight with 28 wins in 27 bouts, vs. Johnny Leslie, New York. Harold Morton, Albany lightweight, vs. Johnny McCormack, New York city.

Becker, White, Leslie and McCormack are all under the direction of Jack Toner, who contends that the boys are all among the best in their class around the metropolitan district.

The three three-rounders will be announced in a day or so, Becker said.

Zoos Cooperate
Moscow (P)—Last spring Moscow Zoo received a gift from the London Zoo of two Australian kangaroos. In return the Moscow Zoo sent six South American snakes, two young African pythons, two mother-of-pearl lizards, blunt-nosed crocodiles and Mississippi alligators. The mother-of-pearl lizards are getting plenty of attention. In nature these animals, according to Evening Moscow, feed on sweet berries. In Moscow Zoo they live on apple jam.

Sensational Cleveland light heavyweight knockout artist who will seek to keep his local streak intact on the next amateur boxing card, Thursday, October 9, at the Municipal Auditorium, Simpson has scored quick knockouts in three of four bouts here. His opponent will be Johnny Barone, highly touted Long Islander.

Jewish Youths, Protestants Are Among 'Irish' Stars

It is well known that about every Catholic kid in the country wants to play football for the "Fighting Irish" of Notre Dame but few people are aware that some of Notre Dame's greatest stars have been of the Protestant and Jewish faiths, the current issue of Sport magazine reveals. The magazine points out that one of Notre Dame's greatest victories, the 18-13 last-minute win over Ohio State in 1935, came on a pass from a Protestant boy, Bill Shakespeare, to Wayne Miller of the Jewish faith. According to Sport, Coy McGee, talented halfback of this year's Notre Dame squad, is a Baptist but that doesn't bother his Catholic teammates in the least. The great Rockne himself until 18 years ago as a player and coach at the South Bend university.

About 10 per cent of Notre Dame's students always have been Protestant, Jewish or of no particular faith, the article in Sport states. The faculty includes numerous Protestants and Jews.

Cheese Dishes Cut Menu Costs

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Use whole grain cereal and American cheese to pack more protein and flavor into your meals. These days of sky-high prices of their essential proteins, such as beef, pork and lamb.

Broiled Tomato-Cheese Pie

(Serves 4-6)

One teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup whole wheat cereal, 2 1/2 cups boiling water, 2 onions, finely chopped; 1/2 cups grated American cheese (1/2 pound), 1 No. 2 1/2 can tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Add salt and cereal to rapidly boiling water. Stir about 5 minutes or until thickened. Saute onions lightly in a little butter or oil.

Put in 1/2 cup grated cheese; cook 5 minutes. Line 8-inch pie plate with mixture.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 15 minutes or until browned. Drain tomatoes well. Season with salt, pepper and Worcestershire; place in pie shell. Cover with remaining 1 cup of grated cheese; brown under the broiler (about 10 minutes).

For a protein-rich luncheon dish, grill tomato halves. Place on rounds of fairly thick whole wheat toast. Pour a highly seasoned hot cheese sauce over the tomatoes and serve at once.

Another protein-rich luncheon dish comes from Fannie Engle's cookbook:

Cottage Cheese Lima Bean Loaf

(Serves Six)

One cup dry lima, 1 cup drained canned tomatoes, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 2 cups cottage cheese, 2 cups dry bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 egg, slightly beaten.

Boil the limas. Drain and chop coarsely, add tomatoes, onion, cottage cheese, bread crumbs, melted butter and egg. Mix well and pour into a well-buttered loaf pan.

Bake about 45 minutes in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.). May be served with tomato sauce if desired.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Stewed pears, cooked whole wheat cereal, coffee cake, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Bowls of split pea soup, toasted bread squares, cottage cheese and chopped nut salad, rye bread, butter or fortified margarine, ready-mix chocolate pudding, tea, milk.

DINNER: Chicken noodle soup, crackers, broiled tomato, cheese pie, buttered popcorn, boiled potatoes, enriched hard rolls, butter or fortified margarine, raw carrot sticks, fresh fruit gelatin, cream, coffee, milk.

If Butcher Hesitates, Blame High Prices

Portland, Ore., Oct. 1 (AP)—

The butcher's hesitance to quote quickly a price when he tosses a beef roast on the weighing machine is not because you might faint.

Blame it on the scales. W. H. Baughn, Portland agent for a scale manufacturer, explained the high price of meat has pushed the price figures off the end of most computing scales now in use. Baughn's firm is marketing a special device that figures prices up to $1.70 a pound. Many of the existing scales, Baughn said, start at one and one half cents a pound and stop at 75 cents.

New York, Oct. 1 (AP)—

Their school training paid off for a total of $40,000 during the summer for 230 students of Newtown High School in Queens. They are agriculture students who worked on eastern farms. The students now are back at their studies, which include the usual subject in addition to the cultivation of a 40-acre school farm. The school announced last night the city-trained young farmers were paid $40 to $80 a month for work on private farms.

Airlines Planes Grounded as Pilots Await Pay Ruling

New York, Oct. 1 (AP)—

Planes of American overseas airlines on both sides of the Atlantic were grounded today pending resumption of wage negotiations during which, the company said, its pay offers to pilots were "The highest in the history of international commercial transport flying."

The company, owned largely by American Airlines, said the strike called yesterday by the A.F.L. Air Line Pilots Association had brought its operations to a "complete standstill." The strike by 173 pilots and copilots indirectly affected 323 other flight crew members.

Of 56 passengers booked for A.O.A. flights from New York yesterday, 46 found space on planes of other lines. A.O.A. has been making 24 round-trip flights weekly, and has 17 airplanes.

The union contended that the strike was called, not over the wage issue, but because the company had failed to bargain in good faith.

Harold R. Harris, A.O.A. general manager, called the union action "sudden and unexpected," saying all but a "few minor issues" covering rules and working conditions were settled in negotiations last week.

Pay scales offered by the company, Harris said, would range from a minimum guarantee of $939.39 a month to first year captains on DC-4 planes for a minimum 70 hours a month, to $1,307.74 a month for senior captains with eight years of seniority flying Constellations 85 hours a month. Pilots now receive from $850 to $1,075, he said.

Increases offered to co-pilots would bring their maximum rates to $610 a month compared with $500 now, Harris said.

Gets 82 Days in Jail
Detroit, Oct. 1 (AP)—Thaddeus Smudka's hazy recollection of places landed him 82 days in the Wayne county jail today when all he wanted was a night's lodging. Smudka, 22, told authorities he had intended to ask to be put up at police headquarters last night but instead wandered into the nearby jail. There he was met by Turnkey Richard C. Cruickshank, who has a good memory for faces and recognized his visitor. "You were in this jail house on March 27, after being sentenced to 90 days for theft," Cruickshank recalled. "You escaped from the Detroit House of Correction on April 5. Welcome home."
